

Threat Intelligence On Demand

Threat intelligence plays a pivotal role in fortifying your digital defenses against the dynamic nature of the threat landscape.

The Right Partner is the Best Defense

The Binary Defense Threat Intelligence On Demand is not merely a submission—It is an opportunity for a collaborative partnership that brings unparalleled value, insights, and intelligence to your security team and organization.

Unveiling Adversary Tactics with Precision Threat Intelligence

The Binary Defense Threat Intelligence service is exclusively designed for Managed Detection and Response clients. The service offers actionable insights into a specific threat or set of threats that your organization may be concerned about, helping you stay ahead of potential risks.

Unlock detailed intelligence regarding adversary groups and their Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures (TTPs). The Threat Intelligence service provides:

Threat Actors & APT Intelligence	Detailed insights into the strategies employed by the Threat Actors and APTs your team wants to keep an eye on. Gain insights into the broader threat landscape by understanding the affiliates and their TTPs.
Targeted Operational Intelligence	Uncover organizational access and data that Threat Actors are selling to gain a better understanding of the threats you face. By gaining insights into organizations that are being targeted, you can take preemptive measures to mitigate the risks posed by cyber threats.
Tactical Threat Intelligence	Gain valuable insights by receiving detailed reports on distinct types of attacks, malware, and vulnerabilities being exploited. Understand behaviors and characteristics and how they could potentially impact your infrastructure.
Vulnerability Information	Get data on newly discovered vulnerabilities, including their severity, the impacted systems, potential mitigations, and known exploits in the wild.
